ROMANO is a well-balanced bull that is the result of intense maternal line breeding, as is evident from his pedigree. With plenty of influence from Beledene Dukes Landy as well as some North Coast genetics from several Ohio Jersey herds. Romano is a sturdy, compact individual that displays tremendous capacity proportional to his relatively small size. With the desirable BB Kappa Casein trait, and from a cow that averaged 6.2% butterfat lifetime, his milk quality traits should be able to boost product yield for cheese makers and those wishing to capture high-component premiums.
